2. Course Description

This course examines the history of modern era colonialism and its legacies in a comparative fashion. It utilizes case-studies from various European colonial empires as well as Japan, and the United States, draws on multi-disciplinary insights from fields such as history, sociology, geography, and anthropology, and explores the political, economic, military, social, cultural, intellectual, and environmental dimensions of colonialism.

This course is designed as an exercise in global history. It will cover a wide range of subjects in multiple world regions and will give agency to colonizers and colonized alike and emphasize the entangled nature and transnational character of the colonial experience. As such the readings will underline the multiple connections and transfers between empires, explore the mutual impact of the colonial experience on the colonies and the imperial centers, and evaluate the enduring legacies of modern colonialism. The following themes will be analyzed:

- theories of colonialism
- colonial state-formation (i.e. administrative types, legal frameworks)
- varieties of the colonial economy (i.e. labor migration, industrial education)
- colonial societies (i.e. bureaucracies, agents of colonialism, local elites)
- the functions of race and gender in the colonial experience (i.e. citizenship and race, masculinity and empire, and the colonial 'gaze')
- colonial war and anti-colonial resistance
- the colonial imagination and the imperial centre (i.e. expositions, museums, and commodity culture)
- colonial social-engineering (i.e. medicine, urban planning, infrastructure)
- colonialism and nature (i.e. zoos, environmentalist thought)
- colonialism transnational (i.e. inter-imperial and intra-imperial transfers)
- colonial legacies (i.e. current debates over restitutions, apologies, and economic disparities)

4. Evaluation

The final grade for this course is based on the accumulated results of two assignments and the participation grade.

Presentation:	25%
Essay:	50%
Participation:	25%

1. Presentation

You will serve as co-moderator for one session. This assignment encompasses a 20 minute presentation. You should develop a coherent analysis of the week's topic. Your presentation can utilize PowerPoint. Include visuals and provide a handout with timeline, important events, and core arguments. Develop questions for further discussion.

2. Essay

You are expected to write a research essay of 15-20pp for this course on a topic mutually agreed upon. Papers will be double-spaced and printed in standard size font (i.e. Times New Roman 12pt) with standard margins. Please do not forget to spell-check your paper and number your pages. The essay is due April 3 in class.

3. Participation

The success of the seminar depends on your full completion of the assigned readings, your prepared attendance, and your active participation.
