Office Hours / Contacting the Instructor:

My Office Hours are Tuesday 1:30-2:30 pm and Thursday 12:30-2:00 pm. I am in at other times; feel free to speak with me about appointments. If you "catch" me at my office, I will gladly discuss matters time permitting. I make an effort to respond to e-mails within 24 hours. Be sure to include a clear subject heading. Phone mail messages face a longer "turn-around." Or, speak to me at class - I usually have a few minutes before or after !!!

Course Description & Goals:

"Illegals", "racial profiling," refugees - newcomers and presumed newcomers to Canada and the U.S.A. regularly draw media and political attention. This course explores immigration to Canada and the United States, assessing the "cultural mosaic" and "melting pot" concepts of immigration in the respective nations. We examine both immigrant and host society expectations, acculturation processes, and state regulation. Questions include: to what extent and why have Canada and the United States sought immigrants? Who arrived? Why? What have they experienced? Who was welcomed? If not welcome, when and why? How has immigration shaped the two nations?

Course Learning Outcomes:

- ✓ identify key developments in the history of Canadian and U.S. immigration, including both demographic trends, attitudes toward immigrants and the approach taken toward "ethnicity"
- ✓ recognize both strengths and weaknesses in historical assessment - the utility of "knowing" the past blended with an awareness of subjective and other potential errors
- ✓ summarize and interpret issues coming from lectures in a group-based discussion format
- ✓ show an ability to research both primary and secondary historical sources and to summarize and evaluate ideas in essay form
- ✓ summarize and synthesize course materials within an essay examination

- ✓ begin to recognize the relevance of history in dealing with contemporary immigration and ethnic-identity issues

Course Notice:

Faculty of Social Science policy on PLAGIARISM is attached. Students violating these guidelines can expect to incur the full weight of the penalties outlined therein. Western uses software for plagiarism checking. Students will be required to submit their written work in electronic form to "Turnitin" for plagiarism checking. If you do not submit your paper to Turnitin on time, the Late essay penalties apply; failure to do so at all means a "zero" on the paper.

Texts: As in most History courses, I will not constantly remind you to read the texts; not reading will leave you without the support of key information sources.

Leonard Dinnerstein and David Reimers Ethnic Americans: Immigration and American Society. 5th edition, ( New York, Columbia University Press, 2009)

Valerie Knowles, Strangers at Our Gates: Canadian Immigration and Immigration Policy, 1540 - 2007. rev. ed. (Toronto: Dundurn, 2007)

Course Requirements: [See Detail below]

Class participation detail below	20 %
Essay proposal / tentative sources	5	Due : January 31, 2013 in class
Essay see detail below !!	40	Due : March 14, 2013 in class
Essay Turnitin		Due : same day
Final Exam	35

Class Participation: (20 %)

History is inherently interpretive, so students should think, not just listen to a litany of "facts." We will break into set groups to discuss issues arising from lectures and reading. After in-group discussion, ideas will be shared with the whole class. Discussions will be evaluated as follows:

Overall quality of shared classroom discussion :	4 %
Three (3) Individual Website assignments (randomly assigned) :	12 %	[4 % each]
* postings due no later than the Friday of the week assigned
Five (5) or more index card "Group comments" handed in intermittently :	4 %

*** IF you miss discussions postings you MUST contact me within a week with a reason - I will consider any reasonable explanation ** the WEEK limit will be applied !!

Essay Proposal (5 %)

Length : 2 pages; Due Date : see above Proposals lose 10 % per day; at 7 days late they will still be commented upon, but are graded at "zero."

A very brief outline of your tentative essay topic. Indicate your line of thought (it is too early for a definitive thesis), and questions you expect to address. Provide a tentative list of at least six [6] key secondary sources and at least two (2) PRIMARY sources that will buttress your arguments.

Indicate how the paper meets the comparative element of the course and that you understand the nature of a primary source.

The assignment should be written in proper English and use proper citation techniques. Thus, this task will provide a "trial run" for technical matters; in addition, a topic or thesis unlikely to succeed (too sweeping, too "narrow", too obscure, ....) can thereafter be adjusted to prevent "disaster" on the main paper.

Course Essay: (40 %) [Paper + Annotated Bibliography + Primary source comment ]

Due Date : see above

*** The essay must be comparative - considering an immigration topic from both American and Canadian perspectives *****

Body of Paper : Minimum Eight (8) pages double spaced [maximum 10] A good essay presents a thoughtful, well-developed argument supported by sound, well-cited research of both primary and secondary sorts. The "thesis" is the basis of the entire paper. You must make that argument clear from the start of the paper; the remainder of your paper should develop various elements of your thesis, elaborating on it and providing supportive evidence. The combination of analysis and evidence, presented in a well-written and properly formatted manner, should conclude with a succinct but strong conclusion. A conclusion does just that - it concludes - it is not a repetition of your paper.

Annotated Bibliography : In brief paragraphs outline the strengths/weaknesses and utility of your secondary sources. Failure to annotate your bibliography can lower your grade by 10 %

Primary Source Discussion : Two page (max. three) discussion commenting in more detail upon your primary sources. This addendum should remark upon the merits of the Primary sources and their overall usefulness for your assignment. If you think that they were weak, you should explain why you chose them as your Primary sources. Failure to provide a primary source discussion will result in a 10 % grade deduction.

Remember that your paper is not "handed in" until you have also submitted to Turnitin !

Format for Your Essay : [marks will be deducted if format is significantly incorrect]

- ✓ Cover page : Title, Course name & number, your name & student number.
- ✓ eight [8] pages/ double spaced / regular font/margins - ie. "Times New Roman" 12 font ; "Arial" 12 font or the equivalent (overly large font penalized.) Margins - 1 inch/2.5 cm sides/top/bottom is appropriate. Leave only a double space between paragraphs, not a gap. (Short papers penalized).
- ✓ PROPER citations - see the Weldon library website or a guide like Mary Lynn Rampolla. A Pocket Guide to Writing in History if you are uncertain about citation methods for History
- ✓ Bibliography also required
- ✓ number your pages // use regular spacing between paragraphs
- ✓ one issue per paragraph
- ✓ indent paragraph beginnings 5 spaces [hit "tab"]
- ✓ underline or italicize book titles, ships' names, magazine or newspaper titles
- ✓ write out numerals to eleven; then use numeral
- ✓ Block format Long quotes [single spaced / indented 5 spaces both sides, no quotation marks]
- ✓ avoid contractions, slang — it is an academic paper
- ✓ no need for "headers" in such a short paper
- ✓ NO plastic or other covers on the paper - just a staple left top corner

Take TIME to draft and edit carefully.

- ✓ check for spelling / grammar / sentence / paragraph technique
- ✓ try for clear rather than long, convoluted sentences [ideally active voice]
- ✓ one issue per paragraph / try for continuity between paragraphs
- ✓ in that vein (not vain) — be careful with colloquialism - this is an academic paper
- ✓ Get the right word: than/then; there/their; were/where; lose/loose; border/boarder
- ✓ one "delves" into topics (not "dives") ; one is credible not "creditable"
- ✓ its (that is possessive !!) (No apostrophe) /// be careful with possessives in general
- ✓ instead of the awkward "his/her" try "their" ; possessives and plural - get them right
- ✓ simple is not a synonym for simplistic ; relevant / relative are quite different terms
- ✓ someone.... who did something (not someone that did)
- ✓ bias/biased (the author has a bias / is biased)
- ✓ "like" does not mean "such as" - "like" compares
- ✓ take care with: economic/economical ; compliment/complement ; wary/weary; then/than
- ✓ "this" is linked to a noun [for example, do not just write "there was no evidence of this."]
- ✓ they/them/their - especially when misused as replacing he/him/his or she/her/her
- ✓ avoid misuse of "actual" and "impacted" ; peaked and pique are quite different
- ✓ avoid redundancy
- ✓ avoid "a lot" - use terms like much, abundant, plentiful...
- ✓ "this" and "these" generally need a noun following

- ✓ avoid verbose forms like "of the fact that" — almost always only need "that"
- ✓ avoid cliched "sophistication" like "a plethora" (if it sounds phoney or forced, don't use it)
- ✓ political parties get upper case / political philosophy lower

These and other issues are NOT dealt with simply by "spellchecking" - consult a dictionary or a writers' guide.

Good Writing is 1 % Inspiration and 99 % Perspiration !!

Plagiarism : Some basic points :

- a) use your own words; make your own arguments.
  - b) IF you use the words, ideas, information of another - you MUST provide citations. Exact use of words require quotation marks and a citation. Keep notes and drafts; you must produce them if asked to by the instructor. You must write your assignment in your own words.
  - c) see the University policy on Plagiarism attached to the end of this syllabus

Final Examination : (35 %)

- ◆ Two hours // based on both lectures and texts - emphasizes broad issues, not minutia
- ◆ Date : during the time period set by the University Registrar
- ◆ There are few secrets to success on an exam. But there are ways to struggle:
  - i. Trying to "catch up" at the last minute only creates substantial stress [I set the exam, not the textbook - going to class is an excellent means of gaining insights into exam issues]
  - ii. Memorizing "all data" is ineffective. History exams assess understanding: do you know why events occurred, what events led up to/ followed from events? Was there continuity and/or change?

THE UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN ONTARIO
FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

PLAGIARISM

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea, or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offense (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar).

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (<http://www.turnitin.com>).

The following rules pertain to the acknowledgements necessary in academic papers.

A. In using another writer's words, you must both place the words in quotation marks and acknowledge that the words are those of another writer.

You are plagiarizing if you use a sequence of words, a sentence or a paragraph taken from other writers without acknowledging them to be theirs. Acknowledgement is indicated either by (1) mentioning the author and work from which the words are borrowed in the text of your paper; or by (2) placing a footnote number at the end of the quotation in your text, and including a correspondingly numbered footnote at the bottom of the page (or in a separate reference section at the end of your essay). This footnote should indicate author, title of the work, place and date of Publication and page number. Method (2) given above is usually preferable for academic essays because it provides the reader with more information about your sources and leaves your text uncluttered with parenthetical and tangential references. In either case words taken from another author must be enclosed in quotation marks or set off from your text by single spacing and indentation in such a way that they cannot be mistaken for your own words. Note that you cannot avoid indicating quotation simply by changing a word or phrase in a sentence or paragraph which is not your own.

B. In adopting other writer's ideas, you must acknowledge that they are theirs.

You are plagiarizing if you adopt, summarize, or paraphrase other writers' trains of argument, ideas or sequences of ideas without acknowledging their authorship according to the method of acknowledgement given in 'A' above. Since the words are your own, they need not be enclosed in quotation marks. Be certain, however, that the words you use are entirely your own; where you must use words or phrases from your source; these should be enclosed in quotation marks, as in 'A' above.

Clearly, it is possible for you to formulate arguments or ideas independently of another writer who has expounded the same ideas, and whom you have not read. Where you got your ideas is the important consideration here. Do not be afraid to present an argument or idea without acknowledgement to another writer, if you have arrived at it entirely independently. Acknowledge it if you have derived it from a source outside your own thinking on the subject.

In short, use of acknowledgements and, when necessary, quotation marks is necessary to distinguish clearly between what is yours and what is not. Since the rules have been explained to you, if you fail to make this distinction, your instructor very likely will do so for you, and they will be forced to regard your omission as intentional literary theft. Plagiarism is a serious offence which may result in a student's receiving an 'F' in a course or, in extreme cases, in their suspension from the University.

MEDICAL ACCOMMODATION

The University recognizes that a student's ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Please go to https://studentservices.uwo.ca/secure/medical\_accommodations\_link\_for\_OOR.pdf to read about the University's policy on medical accommodation. Please go to <http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/handbook/appeals/medicalform.pdf> to download the necessary form. In the event of illness, you should contact Academic Counselling as soon as possible. The Academic Counsellors will determine, in consultation with the student, whether or not accommodation is warranted. They will subsequently contact the instructors in the relevant courses about the accommodation. Once a decision has been made about accommodation, the student should contact his/her instructors to determine a new due date for term tests, assignments, and exams.

If you have any further questions or concerns please contact, Rebecca Dashford, Undergraduate Program Advisor, Department of History, 519-661-2111 x84962 or rdashfo@uwo.ca
