This course examines in detail four transformational wars in the history of the world – the Spanish Conquest of the Americas, the First World War, the Second World War, and the Vietnam War – both in lectures and in small discussion groups that will also focus on the development of foundational analytical and writing skills. Topics include the implications and effects of war for civilians, trade, politics, economies, popular culture, and technology.

Learning Outcomes
Through the lectures and four assignments, students will gain:
Basic primary source skills: what are primary sources?; authorship and audience; Veritas et utilitas (truth and usefulness)
Basic secondary source skills: what are secondary sources?; secondary sources as interpretation; dealing with different interpretations; synthesis of extensive reading
Familiarity with the library and electronic resources
A full understanding of plagiarism and its problems
Basic paper-writing skills: organization, citation, and footnoting
Participation and communication skills in small-group discussion
An appreciation of the fundamental role of war and conflict in shaping history and society

Textbooks
Students must purchase the following textbooks, which will be used for tutorial discussions and assignments. They are available (as a bundle) in the university bookstore.
Western University, Department of History, 2017-2018
History 1810E – Wars That Changed the World

Other materials for use in tutorial discussions and assignments will be available on the course website.

Assignments

Secondary source assignment (due week of 23 October 2017) 15%
Primary source document analysis (due week of 4 December 2017) 15%
Annotated bibliography (Part 1 due week of 22 January, Part 2 due week of 12 February 2018) 10%
Research paper (due week of 2 April 2018) 20%
Tutorial participation 10%
Mid-year examination (December 2017 - date TBA) 15%
Final examination (April 2018 - date TBA) 15%

Submitting assignments

Unless otherwise indicated, all assignments are to be submitted in tutorial. Late assignments will be subject to a deduction of two marks per day, not including weekend days. Assignments submitted more than seven days after the due date, without accommodation from Academic Counselling, will not be graded.

In addition to the hard copy, all assignments must be submitted electronically to the Turnitin plagiarism detection service; late penalties will be applied unless both a hard copy and an electronic copy for Turnitin have been submitted. Detailed instructions for the submission process through the OWL course website will be provided in class. Students are strongly advised not to wait until the last few minutes before midnight to submit the paper. High demand and internet failure are not acceptable reasons for failing to submit on time. In the event of any problems, contact your instructor.

Note: ‘All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (http://www.turnitin.com).’ [www.uwo.ca/univsec/handbook/exam/crsout.pdf]

Secondary source assignment:

Teamwork!! Each group of students will select one of the following topics and put together a Powerpoint presentation (one slide per student). The presentation, which will be given in tutorial, must have an argument and all slides must fit together. Each student will also write a 500-word (two-page) essay on her/his research slide.

Huitzilopochtli, god of war
Atahualpa, Inca emperor
The Conquest of Peru
The Conquest of Mexico
The Conquest of the Maya
Due week of 23 October 2017

Primary source document analysis:
You will be given an original document from the First World War to research and analyze. You should approach it as an exercise in historical detection – how much can the document tell you about the time, and about the people and events to which it refers? Because of the nature of the assignment, it does not need a thesis statement, like a conventional research paper. It should include reference notes and a bibliography. A sample analysis will be made available on the course website.
Due week of 4 December 2017

Preliminary research report and annotated bibliography:
This two-part assignment is designed to teach you to conduct historical research like a scholar for the research paper that is due at the end of the term. For the first part, you will complete a preliminary research report on a particular topic from either the Vietnam War or the Second World War according to the template provided on the course website. This report will enable you to refine your essay topic and begin the process of searching out relevant sources. For the second part, you will produce an annotated bibliography of sources that you will use for your research paper, and describe your research question and the thesis you intend to argue in your research paper.
Part 1 due week of 22 January 2018
Part 2 due week of 12 February 2018

Research paper:
Each student will write a research paper on the particular topic on either the Vietnam War or the Second World War assessed in the annotated bibliography. The assignment will allow you to bring together skills in interpreting primary and secondary sources, and in bibliographical research. A premium will be placed on your ability to present your argument in an organized fashion and in graceful prose.
Due week of 2 April 2018

The success of each tutorial depends on the willingness of students to keep up with the readings on a weekly basis and to take part fully in the discussion. Your participation (and note that you are assessed on participation, not simply attendance) will be assessed on an ongoing basis throughout the year. Attendance at tutorials is mandatory.

History 1810E is designated as an essay course. In order to obtain a passing grade in the course, each student must exhibit a minimum level of competence in essay writing and the appropriate level of knowledge of the content of the course. In practical terms, this means that each student, to pass the course, must achieve a passing grade in the essay portion (ie. out of the combined essay grade of 60%, you must achieve at least 30%).
For reasons of privacy, students should communicate with the course directors and TAs using their UWO email addresses; all communications regarding the course will be sent to those email addresses, rather than to other accounts (Hotmail, Gmail, etc). Students should also regularly check the Announcements section on the course website for updates.

We recognize that, for academic purposes, students rely heavily on electronic devices such as laptops or smartphones, and may be accustomed to using them in class for taking notes or following the readings. Our assumption is that students will be respectful of their instructors and fellow students in using electronic devices, and will not engage in activities that distract those around them. In the event of disruptive use of such devices, the course directors reserve the right to request that any device be turned off or put away; in extreme cases, a student may be asked to leave the lecture hall.
