Course Description
This course will investigate developments in North and South Korea since 1945. Topics will include the Korean War; economic development, military dictatorship, and democratisation in South Korea; the consolidation of the Kim family state in North Korea; and the role of the Korean peninsula in international relations in the Asia-Pacific.

Prerequisite(s):
1.0 History course at the 2200 level or above or the former International Relations 2701E.

Course Syllabus
Located at the crossroads of Northeast Asia, the Korean peninsula has often been at the centre of developments in the region, often as a prize of larger powers. After the end of World War II in 1945, Korea emerged from a long period of Japanese colonial rule. New foreign interference that started with the decision of the US and the USSR to divide the peninsula into two occupation zones led to the creation of North and South Korea in 1948, each claiming to be the only legitimate government of all Koreans. Tensions and antagonism between the two states culminated soon after in the Korean War of 1951-1953, a civil war that also led to foreign intervention. The war proved destructive for both states but was inconclusive and entrenched the division of the peninsula into two antagonistic and increasingly divergent states that are still technically at war and have the most militarised border in the world between them.

The purpose of the course will be to investigate developments in North and South Korea since 1945. Topics will include the formation of North and South Korea; the Korean War; economic development, military dictatorship, and democratisation in South Korea; the consolidation of the Kim family state in North Korea; and the role of the Korean peninsula in the international order in the Asia-Pacific during the Cold War and beyond.

By the end of the course, students should be able to:

• assess the interaction between political, social, economic, cultural, and international factors in the development of North and South Korea
• explain the characteristics of the different political regimes in the Korean peninsula since 1945 and their impact on Korean society, economy, and culture
• Analyze primary and secondary sources on select topics in modern Korean history since 1945 through both oral discussion and written work
• Present findings and views from readings through oral presentations
• Synthesise primary and secondary sources to produce a research paper

The term paper will be a research paper on a topic of your choice in the history of North and South Korea since 1945. Suggested topics will be handed out early in the beginning of the semester. The suggested length of the papers will be approximately 10-15 pages. The paper will due on Nov. 14.

The three article/document analyses will be based around the readings for each class. During the semester, students will choose any 3 of the articles or documents (except for the Buzo textbook readings) assigned and write a 3-6 page paper each on the articles. These papers are due on the day of the relevant seminar in which the particular reading is assigned. This assignment will not normally be accepted late. The 1st article analysis, on readings between Sept. 12 and Oct. 3, must be done by Oct. 3. The 2nd article analysis, on readings between Oct. 10 and Oct. 31, must be done by Oct. 31. The 3rd article analysis, on readings between Nov. 7 and Dec. 5, must be done by Dec. 5. This assignment is more than merely a summary. The main purpose of the paper is to bring forth the main issues of the article or series of documents, discuss how the author(s) bring forth their point of view, and also analyze the effectiveness of the readings in conveying information and opinion, as well as their contribution to the topic under discussion in the particular seminar.

Students will also be required to do 1 oral presentation in the course of the semester. These will be based on the articles and documents assigned as readings for the seminar. A sign-up sheet will be passed around in the beginning of the semester. This will involve a brief 10-15 minute presentation on the reading in question, which will include a brief summary of the reading and the launching of questions for discussion.

This is a seminar course and the success of the seminar depends a lot on keeping up with the readings, attendance in class, and participation in discussion. It is for this reason that 15% of the course mark depends on seminar participation. Roll will be taken in each class and students will be given marks for participation in the discussions. For each class, students will be marked on a scale of 1 to 5 for each class and at the end of the semester, the marks will be added together to give an overall participation mark.

If you should have any questions pertaining to the structure or content of the course, please do not hesitate to contact me during my office hours, or by phone or e-mail to make an appointment.

Absences and Late Assignments

The term paper will be accepted late. However, there will be a penalty of 2% a day that will be applied for every day the assignments are late, including weekends and holidays. The article analyses will not normally be accepted late, since there is flexibility as to when to hand them in. I normally request both an electronic copy of your assignment, submitted on OWL, and a paper copy submitted to myself in class, during my office hours, or through the History department office (please see below). Penalties stop on receipt of the first version (either electronic or paper) that has been received. However, I will normally only start marking your assignment when I have both versions of your assignment. If you have missed class, try and get notes from another member of the class. The Powerpoints for the lectures will also be posted after they have been presented.

If you do hand in your assignment late, please hand in your paper copy to the wooden drop-off box outside the History Department office at Lawson Hall. The staff will pick up the assignment and stamp it with a date and time and put it in my mailbox. This provides greater security and clarity for the handing in of the assignment. Please avoid shoving the paper under my office door if at all possible, because it could get lost.

In case of family emergency, illness, or other circumstances, penalties can be removed from assignments after approval from academic counselling. In these circumstances, please get in contact with your home faculty or college’s academic counselling office and submit the required forms and documentation. The office will then get in contact with me and give me recommendations for accommodation.

Students have the right to file one assignment per course per semester with academic counselling without supporting documentation. In this case, normally an extension will be given for 2-3 days, after which lateness penalties will begin.

Some students have access to flexibility in assignment deadlines through Accessible Education. This allows for extensions on assignments for a few days without having to go through academic counselling. Please come and consult with me to work out a new assignment deadline if you have this accommodation and you are exercising this option. Flexibility in assignment deadlines does not mean extending assignment submission over weeks or months. This is to avoid stress in the end of the semester with an accumulation of assignments for submission. If more time is needed than a few days, academic counselling will need to be consulted.

All written work (regardless of accommodations) must be submitted by the end of classes for fall semester, which is Dec. 6, 2024. Any petition for extension beyond this date will require approval from the academic counselling office with supporting documentation.

Attendance at the seminar sessions and participating in discussion is an important part of the course. However, if you do miss a seminar class, after advice from academic counselling, I will either request a 1-2 page response paper on the readings for the relevant week to make up for your participation mark for that week or I will waive the participation mark for that week. This flexibility should be the exception rather than the rule for your seminar participation mark.
